Description:

Executive Director

Geneva Lake Conservancy

Fontana, WI

Lead a dynamic land trust protecting Wisconsin's most treasured landscapes. Geneva Lake Conservancy seeks a visionary Executive Director to guide the organization through its next phase of growth. Building on a strong foundation of 51 protected properties and 3,692 acres conserved, the new leader will transform the Conservancy into a beacon of conservation for the region.

This is an exceptional opportunity for a conservation professional to serve as both strategic leader and hands-on conservationist. The Executive Director will oversee critical land acquisitions, guide innovative water protection initiatives, and build the philanthropic partnerships that will fuel future growth.

In this role, you will:

- Lead comprehensive strategies for land protection, advocacy, and community engagement
- Guide a dedicated team of six staff members and steward a $1.1 million budget
- Serve as the public face of conservation in the region, building bridges between diverse stakeholders
- Oversee the organization's Land Trust Alliance reaccreditation process
- Develop targeted land-protection plans for easements and purchases

Why Geneva Lake Conservancy?

- A Conservation Legacy. With 51 protected properties spanning 3,692 acres, including rare oak savannas and pristine glacial lakes formed over 10,000 years ago.
- Innovation and Leadership. Pioneering programs like Conservation@Home that engage hundreds of community members.
- Growth and Vision. Positioned for transformational expansion with strategic planning underway and Board commitment to establishing the Conservancy as a model for Midwest land trusts.

The salary range for this role is $130,000-$150,000.
